

STUART CIRCLE HOSPITAL OPENS ANNEX TOMORROW

New Addition Will Have Facilities for Accommodation of Forty or Fifty Patients.

BRINGS FULL CAPACITY TO 157

New Operating Room Will Be Devoted to Dental Surgery—Equipment to Be Provided for Emergencies in the Home.

The new addition to the Stuart Circle Hospital will be opened tomorrow. The addition has been in process of construction for nearly a year and will have facilities for the accommodation of forty to fifty patients. These added to the beds in the main building will give the hospital a capacity of about 157 patients. The hospital since its beginning in 1912 has become known throughout the state. It has the first training school to be established in Virginia, and one of the limited few in the country.

In the basement of the addition are rooms set apart for the storing of records, pharmacy, laundry, cooking rooms, centralinen room and general utility rooms.

Offices on First Floor

On the first floor are found the executive offices of the hospital, pathological and radiological laboratories and reception rooms. Quite a unique feature of this floor is the arrangement by which offices of the members of the staff are grouped. These offices were designed to give maximum convenience to the members of the staff and are in close touch with the laboratory techniques. This arrangement conforms to the modern-day group medicine in the best sense. Two entrances are provided, the main entrance opening on the executive offices and information offices, and another, the other entrance at the south end of the building is provided for use of office patients. At the south end there is a marble fountain which gives the artistic touch to the hospital beautiful.

On the second floor there is a medical library, which is an especial and unique feature of this hospital. It is located above the offices of the Robbie Memorial Library. This room is finished in mahogany, with pleasant lighting facilities. It has a capacity of possibly 2,000 volumes, and extends the entire width of the building. This room is to be used for clinical meetings and conferences, which are held regularly by the staff. It is open to all visiting physicians. Following the arrangement of the floor below, are the offices of the staff. The remainder of this floor is utilized as patients' rooms.

Patients' Rooms on Fourth

On the third, fourth and fifth floors are found the bedrooms of patients, ranging from double with bath, double and single rooms.

The third floor is given over to additional beds for medical and surgery, the fourth floor to maternity work, and the fifth to eye, ear, nose and throat patients. An enlarged nursery with southern exposure is also located on the fifth floor. A large room has also been provided for convalescents.

New operating rooms and sterilizing rooms have been installed to meet the demands of the enlarged hospital. In connection with two large modernly equipped operating rooms and pathological laboratory for the examination of tissues, there is a complete dental room for dental surgery. This department was installed in order that patients in the hospital may have the advantages of dental surgery as soon as required.

On the sixth floor is the enlarged dormitory for the nurses and in connection with this is an attractively appointed restaurant for their use. Also on this floor is found a dormitory, a private room for the medical teaching of dentists. Here are general kitchens, service rooms, refrigerating rooms, and store rooms, from which the patients are served. Quite an interesting feature of this floor is the glass enclosed squirrel leading from the top of the garden. In this room will be provided a billiard table and other attractions for convalescents.

Hospital Requirements

This hospital, which is declared an aim at perfection in hospital construction, not alone appeals to the patient's aesthetic feelings, through its modern and attractive surroundings, but is planned with every requirement known to modern medicine and surgery for the treatment of the sick.

As to the real value to the community, especially the West End, an equipment room is to be provided, in order that the duty and physiology as well as anatomy, which are required in the way of study, will be available in the room. This was not seen met by the hospital since its existence, but now funds it is necessary to begin a special room for this purpose in order to meet the increased demands.

Springs, too, are in the back. Same construction, including pillowized arms, are in the comfortable Chair and Rocker to match.

The inner construction of a Living-Room Suite—the part you cannot see—must be bought on faith and reputation. So, don't you think it will pay you to buy here, where Phillip Levy's 35 years of thought, judgment and wholesale buying experience—in buying carloads at a time—insure you the highest quality and satisfaction at a saving?
